

Daniel J. Wirgau

Daniel Wirgau has experience on sell-side and buy-side transactions, debt and equity financings, and valuation analysis.

He provides valuation analysis using the DCF, precedent transactions, and public company methods. He prepares confidential information memorandums for various assignments, meets with potential buyers, and provides additional financial analysis and modeling. He works on private equity firms' investment sourcing and targeting of potential private equity firm acquisitions.

He researches and identifies acquisition candidates based on selected criteria, such as revenue growth, EBITDA margins, market niche and recommends investment opportunities.

Daniel also worked at JP Morgan Chase as a Personal Banker. He was in charge of managing customer accounts and generating loans and investments. While at JP Morgan Chase, he achieved State wide recognition for doubling sales incentives every consecutive month and led his district in both investment referrals and mortgage loans generated.

Mr. Wirgau is a graduate of Michigan State University, Eli Broad College of Business, East Lansing, MI.

Daniel has experience in entertainment, internet companies, music, sports franchises, and consumer products.
